

4 Reasons Your Business will Love the Canopy<sup>SM</sup> Managed Cloud

Today's Cloud technology has made it possible for smaller businesses to use advanced technology to compete with larger companies. In the past, it just wasn't financially feasible for smaller businesses to match the services of their larger competitors. Thanks to the Cloud, that's changed. Here are 4 reasons smaller businesses love the Cloud.

1. Become a technology user rather than a technology owner. Owning outdated technology is expensive and unnecessary. Rather than building server rooms and data centers, businesses can now just purchase access to what they need when they need it.
2. Access your data anytime, anywhere. In the past, employees needed to be physically present in the office to have high-performing access to the data. Now, employees can work remotely, access data as they're traveling, or create data presentations and other documents from home.
3. Benefit from highly specialized support. Small businesses generally can't justify the cost of the technology required to manage today's applications. With Canopy<sup>SM</sup> Managed Cloud, you get the benefit of working with expert-level application technicians.
4. Improve security. Most small businesses can only afford basic security products. With Canopy<sup>SM</sup> Managed Cloud, all businesses have access to state-of-the-art security solutions.

As your business begins to experience what the Cloud can do, you will be able to free up money that was allocated to IT resources. You can now grow and compete in new ways on a level playing field.
